

“I approached the world of perfumery almost by accident. I was actually always attracted to scents and smells because one of my passions is cooking. Once I entered this world, I discovered that my real passion was raw materials and the combination of them.” This is what Cristian Calabrò says when asked how he got into the world of fragrances.

In 2003, Cristian began his career alongside Master Perfumer Maurizio Cerizza. Here he develops a deep knowledge of raw materials.

His passion drives him to interpret them in depth to feel them his own and in the adventure of discovering new and innovative ones thanks also to extraordinary technical-analytical skills, olfactory memory, curiosity and desire to experiment.

Now a Senior Perfumer at CFF Creative Flavours & Fragrances, he continues to follow his creative spark every day to bring to life unique compositions.

«If I had to sum up my work, I would use Arthur Schnitzler's phrase, “The three criteria of a work of art: harmony, intensity, continuity.”

I draw inspiration from art, music, cinema and cuisine, exploring new raw materials to create unique fragrances. Curiosity drives me to experiment and leave a personal imprint on each creation.»
